New Township Branding: Including Updated Newsletter Design

Rivercrest neighborhood kids pose with police officers after they stopped at the precinct to show the officers their support. The neighbors brought the officers cookies and snacks to show their gratitude.

As you read this newsletter, you may have noticed an updated contemporary and vibrant design and new Township Seal. The updated look and feel of this publication is one of the many changes that has been a part of the exciting Township of Upper Providence rebranding project.

In 2015 the Township was seeking to proactively rebrand in order to capitalize on the Township's growth, new leadership, and new direction. The Township engaged the integrated marketing and public relations services of Furia Rubel in order to develop the new brand and help guide the implementation of the new brand strategically across all channels.

"To some Township Residents we are Collegeville, to others we are Phoenixville, and at times we are referred to as Oaks. We recognized the need to rebrand the Township of Upper Providence to establish a strong presence in the community and to reflect the voice and composition of the Township's residents," says Township Manager Tim Tieperman.

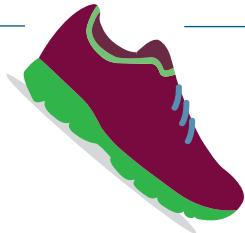

The rebranding project was broken out over four phases: Brand Analysis and Research, Brand Positioning, Finalize Seal (Brand), and Brand Standards Manual. Also, a new seal, Public Education Government (PEG) TV Channel, letterhead, business collateral, and flag have been developed.

Newsletter Moving to All-Online Format

This will be the very last edition of the print newsletter for Upper Providence Township. Starting in 2017 with the Spring issue, this informative publication which has a goal of keeping our Township residents engaged, informed, and enlightened will move to an online format and will be sent to all Township residents via e-mail and will be available electronically on the Township's website at www.uprov-montco.org.

"Our lives today are immensely intertwined with technology. At Upper Providence Township, we recognize the need to stay current and we are passionate about making every effort to stay up-to-date with technology trends. Switching to an E-newsletter also comes at a cost savings for the Township and ultimately for our residents," says Township Manager Tim Tieperman.

Migrating to an all-online publication will also help the newsletter become a more useful tool for Residents. For example, all links to register for popular events and programs will link directly to our webpages, and an all-online format will even allow for the Township to be able to embed video content. The E-Newsletter will also be easy to share with friends and neighbors via e-mail and social media. Moving to an all-online format also allows the Township to be able to produce a newsletter three times a year instead of just two times a year. Not sure if you are signed up to receive e-Communications from the Township? Visit our homepage at www.uprov-montco.org.

Still interested in a hard copy version of the Newsletter? No problem! Contact admin@uprov-montco.org or call the office 610-933-9179 to sign up. ♦

The rebranding project is an evolution. Future projects that are slated for rebranding in 2017 are an all-electronic newsletter, updated website, Township signage, county vehicle branding, Facebook page, Twitter account, and a renovated Township building.

About the new Township Seal

In the upper right corner of this newsletter, you will find the new Township Seal which also debuts the new Township colors. The color burgundy reflects brand elements currently displayed throughout the Township such as Township building roofs and signage. The use of burgundy in the seal ties the new seal into the current Township brand. The color green represents scenic parks and the color blue represents the waterways that surround the Township. The seal also communicates the Township's "elements" which include: Family, waterways, walking paths / scenic parks, fire, police, economic development, and flagship commerce center. ♦♦♦

Public Works & Police Updates

Security Tips from Upper Providence Township Police Department

Protect your residence while you are away: Before you head out of town for an extended holiday, it is always a safe idea to notify the police department. You can call the police department at: 610-933-7899. Also, look into using timers for your lights to give the impression that someone is home. You can also place a hold on mail or have someone collect them for you while you are away.

Maintain your property in a secure manner: Ensure that all the locks for your doors, perimeter fences, and windows are in good working order.

Report suspicious activity: If you see something, say something. Reporting this information to the can prevent burglaries and other property crimes in our community.

Holiday shopping reminders: Periodically check your credit report for unauthorized transactions and maintain the security of your credit and personal information. Deter pickpocketing by keeping wallets in front pockets and purses closed and strapped to your person. The holiday shopping season causes larger crowds in stores. If shopping with children keep them close and create a plan as to what to do if separated. Also, be sure to park in well-lit areas and after shopping, be sure to bring all packages and valuables in from your vehicle.

Winter Shoveling Etiquette

Keep these snow etiquette rules in mind to help Upper Providence, PennDOT, and private contractor crews keep our roads safe during the winter months:

- Refrain from throwing snow onto the roadway when shoveling.
- For recycling and garbage day pickup, please shovel an area for containers on your curb or driveway.
- Parents, please watch your children closely during snow play!
- Keep all sleds/toys out of the street.
- Remove snow from the end of your driveway and from your mailbox.
- Shovel snow to the right of the driveway to avoid having plows push snow back into your driveway.

Check Your Mailbox Placement

Check your mailbox now, and be worry-free when snow plows are on the roads! To prevent damage from passing snowplows, mailboxes should be should be installed following these specifications:

- Top of mailbox is 41-45 inches ground.
- Mailbox should be set back 6-8 inches from the front of the curb or road edge

The township is not responsible for damage caused by improper mailbox placement or rotten mailbox posts.

UPTN-Public, Educational, and Government TV Channel Launched

In Fall of 2016 Township of Upper Providence, Montgomery County, launched its very first 24-hour Public, Educational and Government access cable TV channel (PEG), accessible only within the Township. The PEG channel, known as Upper Providence Township Network (UPTN), is available on Comcast channel number 965 (Local Government Access) and features a variety of non-commercial programming including Township Meetings, government announcements, community news, and educational bulletins. The mission of the UPTN PEG channel is to communicate; educate; inform; and engage the residents and businesses of Township of Upper Providence.

The Board of Supervisors saw the need for the UPTN PEG channel to further improve communication between the Township and its residents, and secondly, to promote the Township's brands within the community.
