

CAREER FIREFIGHTERS An Essential Service For Township Safety

Fire and Rescue Services are responsible for 8% of the Township's Budget.

Upper Providence Township proudly supports the volunteer firefighters who respond to emergencies throughout the Township. As the primary resource of fire and rescue services to Upper Providence Township we are fortunate to have four independent volunteer fire companies respond to calls for help. Black Rock Fire Company is the official volunteer fire company of Upper Providence. The Collegeville, Trappe, and Royersford Volunteer Fire Departments also respond to emergencies to various sections of our community.

Each of the Volunteer Fire Departments is provided with substantial financial support from Upper Providence Township totaling $335,000 in 2016. The Township also purchases the fire trucks for the Black Rock Volunteer Fire Company which range in price from $350,000 to over $1M. Additionally, the Township provides financial incentives to the volunteer firefighters for the number of responses each year to encourage their continued service.

The current state of the volunteer fire services is a challenge to communities across Pennsylvania—including Upper Providence Township. Despite efforts to attract and retain volunteer firefighters in the community through

Lieutenant U. Mark Freeman Graduates Prestigious FBI National Academy

The Upper Providence Township Police Department and the entire Upper Providence Township would like to recognize and celebrate the recent achievement of Lieutenant U. Mark Freeman who, along with 222 other law enforcement officers, graduated from the FBI National Academy Program on December 16, 2016. The graduating class consisted of officers from 48 states, 20 international countries, 5 military and 8 federal organizations. "This is a great honor for our police department and community. Lieutenant Freeman is the first National FBI Academy graduate from Upper Providence Township," says Police Chief Mark Toomey.

The Police Department, with the support of the Board of Supervisors, applied to send Lieutenant Freeman to the FBI National Academy in Quantico, Virginia in 2015. After his acceptance, Lieutenant Freeman attended the 266th session of the FBI National Academy from October–December, 2016. The National Academy program held at the FBI Academy offers advanced communication, leadership, and fitness training for selected officers.

Lt. U. Mark Freeman Graduates FBI National Academy (continued from page 1)

On average, the attending officers have 21 years of law enforcement experience and typically serve in executive level positions. The training is provided by Academy instructional staff, Special Agents and other staff members holding advanced degrees, many of whom are recognized internationally in their fields of expertise.

“For me, the Academy was an amazing professional and personal journey. Professionally, the educational and physical training I received was second to none. All of my classes were academically challenging and taught by experts in their respective fields of study. The Academy allowed me an opportunity to meet some of the most up and coming intelligent men and women in law enforcement,” says Lieutenant U. Mark Freeman.

Lieutenant Freeman joined the Upper Providence Township Police Department in December of 1991. He graduated from St. Joe’s University in September of 2011 and he received his Masters from St. Joe’s University in May of 2014. Lieutenant Freeman was promoted to Lieutenant in June of 2014 and will remain in his current role for the Township.❖

various recruitment attempts and financial incentives, the number of active firefighters able to respond to emergencies has dropped considerably.

In response to the need to provide fire and rescue services to the residents, businesses, and visitors to our community the Township attempted to supplement the volunteers with township public works employees in 2008, but it was not a long-term or sustainable solution.

Upper Providence Township has a statutory responsibility to provide fire protection, and the community deserves to have a dependable response when confronted by an emergency. In order to supplement our valuable volunteers, the Township Board of Supervisors decided to employ career firefighters to staff a Township fire truck from 7:30 am to 5:30 pm Monday through Friday in February of 2015.

The career firefighters staff Engine 93 which is housed at the Township's municipal complex. The engine responds immediately to all emergency fire and rescue calls inside

Upper Providence Township to supplement the response by the volunteers. Having this team of professionals available to respond immediately, and during business hours, means that our community receives an extremely quick response time.

When not responding to fire emergencies, the career staff, who are all emergency medical technicians responds to medical emergencies to supplement our ambulance services. Finally, when not responding to any calls for help, the firefighters perform construction plan reviews and building inspections throughout the community.

Upper Providence Township has invested significant funding to protect the community when fire and rescue services are needed. The costs associated with providing this valuable service to the community are responsible for the single largest increase in the municipal budget since 2015. “The Township is dedicated to ensuring that our volunteer and career staff possess reliable equipment and resources to respond quickly to calls for help,” says Lisa A. Mossie, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors. ❖

EMS & Public Works Updates

Ambulance Service (EMS) Upgrades Coming to Upper Providence Township in 2017

The Upper Providence Township Board of Supervisors and Staff conducted a comprehensive analysis of the Ambulance Service (EMS) delivery to the community during 2016 and early 2017. The analysis examined response times, EMS station locations, and many other factors that affect the delivery of emergency medical services when 911 is called. Local EMS agencies who provide service to the community also provided input as well at the Montgomery County Department of Public Safety.

Currently, the Township is serviced by three EMS agencies that respond to calls from four different stations. Unfortunately, none of the EMS stations are located inside Upper Providence Township. Additionally, each of the EMS agencies cover multiple communities which may cause a delay in a response to Upper Providence Township. Given the Township growth and development primarily in the center of the community, the analysis was conducted to ensure that residents, workers and visitors are properly served by emergency medical services.

Recommendations To Improve EMS Response Times

The Board of Supervisors and Staff concluded that a centrally located ambulance based inside the Township would improve response times and reliability of EMS service. In the coming months, the Township will interview and appoint one of our local EMS agencies to staff an ambulance unit based at the Black Rock Municipal Campus. The selected agency will have the primary responsibility of responding to EMS calls for a majority of the UPT’s geographic area.

The selection process should be completed by July 1, 2017. Operations will likely commence before the end of 2017. The EMS agency selected will operate the new EMS unit and will employ the staff as they currently do now 24 hours each day, 365 days per year. The upgraded service will not add any employees to the Township staff. ❖

Local Roadway Improvements

The Township Board of Supervisors authorized the most ambitious road projects in Upper Providence history. Over the next few months, the Township will be investing over $2 million to address its growing list of “Grade F” roads.

Grade F roads are those that have exceeded their typical life-cycle, usually 20+ years, where conventional maintenance methods like crack sealing no longer work. These projects are being bid in two separate phases, Project A and Project B. Coupled with competitive rates on road materials, we are hopeful that the majority of all the Township’s Grade F roads will be milled and overlaid in 2017. A project of this magnitude may cause minor disruptions but will result in a vastly improved road infrastructure once completed. Updates regarding the project will be posted regularly on the Township website. ❖

Upper Providence Township Police Department Grows to 29 Officers

The Upper Providence Township Police Department has grown to 29 officers that work and serve within many different departments to keep the Upper Providence Township Community protected and safe. The Department is led by Police Chief Mark A. Toomey, Lt. Freeman (patrol), and Sgt. Dixon (administration and operations). Investigations, are supervised by Det. Sgt. Bechtel.

The Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police Association introduced the Pennsylvania Law Enforcement Accreditation Program in 2001. Accreditation is a way to help institutions evaluate and improve overall performance for a Police Department. Of the 300 Pennsylvania police agencies enrolled in the program, 110 have obtained accredited status. One of the goals of the Upper Providence Police Department is to achieve accredited status, and since October of 2016 the department has been working to complete its accreditation requirements. The Police Department has updated 133 policies to comply with the standards established with the Pennsylvania Law Enforcement Accreditation. “Accreditation is designed to increase employee input, interaction, and confidence in the agency. It ultimately furnishes a solid foundation for the agency to build upon for further progress and it provides reliable methods to improve essential management procedures. It’s been a great process for our team,” says Chief Toomey. ❖

Township Tax Bill Update: Explaining the Public Safety Levy

This past winter, Upper Providence Township officials received resident inquiries about the 2017 County and Township Real Estate Tax bills. Until this year, Upper Providence remained the only municipality of Montgomery County’s 62 municipalities without a real estate levy. “Upper Providence Township has been able to support a combined $7.5 million public safety budget without any property tax over the past 15 years. In municipal circles, this is almost unheard of,” says Township Manager Timothy J. Tieperman.

To address a projected and growing structural deficit and to meet the rising costs associated with providing these core public safety services, the Township introduced this new levy in 2017 to help stabilize the Township’s finances and eliminate this structural deficit. In conjunction with this new levy, Upper Providence Township also repealed the Per Capita Tax. “Even with the new levy, the Township still has the lowest municipal real estate levy in Montgomery County for towns that provide paid police and fire services,” says Tieperman.

The new 1.2 mil levy is projected to generate $2.4 million. Residents may visit at www.uprov-montco.org to read the detailed budget transmittal letter and the 2017 budget breakdown.

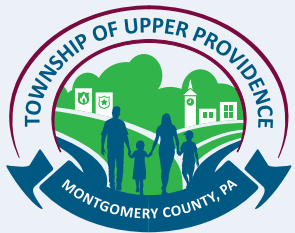

The introduction of these new public safety revenue sources will put Upper Providence Township on a sound financial footing in the years to come. “Residents and businesses should not expect any future levy increases in the near future,” says Tieperman. Township officials. ❖

Cost Containment Initiatives

The Township is also working diligently to keep the Board of Supervisors core goal of “pursuing operational efficiencies to meet both operational and capital needs” in the forefront of all initiatives.

“As a Township we have not just focused on just revenues but also our expenses,” says Tieperman.

Major adjustments include pension changes for now employees, a full-time hiring freeze, health insurance plan changes have been implemented, and certain privatization initiatives and more.

Update: Park, Open Space and Trail Master Plan

Reaching the end of the development and concept planning stage of the Park, Open Space, and Trail Master Plan, the Board of Supervisors recently adopted concept plans showing the potential development of four parks within Upper Providence Township, a new Township-wide Trail Master Plan, and a new plan showing Open Space preservation priorities as part of the on-going Comprehensive Plan updates.

Concept Plans were developed for Anderson Farm Park, Black Rock Park, MacFarlan Park and the undeveloped Staley Park (formerly the Taylor property). For Anderson and MacFarlan Parks the concept plans showed minor refinements to existing recreation facilities, but primarily focused on review and support of those existing recreation amenities.

Black Rock Park’s concept plan showed the area now dedicated to an expanded municipal building, the relocation of a softball field, and development of property on the south side of Black Rock Road. The concept plan for Staley Park, which is currently undeveloped, shows both active and passive recreation with the development of a trail system, community gardens and new ball fields (baseball/softball and football/soccer fields).

The Trail Plan reinforced the 2006 plan while also proposing new trails to connect the park system within the Township and connecting to the trail system serving the greater Montgomery County area.

The Open Space Plan was developed with the same philosophy, reinforcing and adding to the existing open space within and surrounding Upper Providence Township. All the Park Concept Plans, Trail and Open Space Master Plans will be posted to the Township’s website for public viewing at www.uprov-montco.org. ❖
